

POMA Future Society

The POMA Foundation, Inc. is committed to funding educational programs for traditional outdoors sports communicators and professionals.

To ensure the POMA Foundation continues to provide skill-enhancement and business-building opportunities moving forward, many thoughtful individuals have included our organization in their wills, trusts, retirement accounts, whole and universal life insurance policies, and other estate plans. They understand their foresight will ensure the future of traditional outdoor sports communications and thus the future of hunting, recreational fishing, shooting sports, trapping and other heritage activities.

To honor these special, planned-giving commitments, these generous individuals have been enrolled in the POMA Future Society. If the arrangement is designated as a joint commitment, spouses are also recognized. There are no monetary designations for the POMA Future Society, and contingent designations are also recognized.

To thank POMA Future Society members, we extend lifetime benefits that include recognition in POMA Foundation publications, honor rolls and at special events – as appropriate and only with the consent of each member. These are very personal commitments, and the terms are maintained in strict confidence and will not be viewed as binding.

Individuals who notify the foundation of their planned giving commitments prior to March 15, 2011 will be recognized as Charter Members of the POMA Future Society.

If the realized commitment made by a member of the POMA Future Society qualifies for one of POMA's Lifetime Giving Societies, then the member will qualify for recognition as a member of both the appropriate Lifetime Giving Society and the POMA Future Society.

If you have included the POMA Foundation, Inc. in your estate plans, we hope you will notify us by completing the included "Declaration of Intent" so we may acknowledge your generosity.

If you are considering changes to your estate plans, or are just getting started and would like more information about how to include the POMA Foundation in your plans, please feel welcome to contact me.

Thank you for including us in your traditional outdoor sports legacy.

Gratefully,

Bill Miller
President, POMA Foundation, Inc.
